I. Background

Employees are often the first to realise that there may be something wrong within the Council/School. However, they may decide not to express their concerns because they feel that speaking up would be disloyal to their colleagues or to the Council/School. They may also fear harassment or victimisation. In these circumstances, it may be easier to ignore the concern rather than report what may just be a suspicion of malpractice. The Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 provides statutory protection to employees making disclosures and the Council extends the principles of that Act into this policy to give elected members, school governors, partners, service users and citizens the same route to raise concerns.

It is this duty that supports early intervention to safeguard and promote children's and young people's wellbeing in order that good outcomes can be delivered.

NB In the case of child protection issues, the procedures and guidelines issued by the East Riding Safeguarding Board must be followed.

Failure to comply with the authorities employment policies including cases of harassment and bullying.

Failure to comply with the authority's policy and legal requirements in relation to the protection of children and vulnerable people.

3. Policy Statement

The Council and the Governing Body are committed to the highest possible standards of openness, probity and accountability and expects that elected members and employees at all levels will protect the Council/School and its resources and lead by example, ensuring high standards of personal conduct and adherence to the School or Council's policies, procedures and rules.

In line with this commitment, we encourage employees, elected members, school governors, partners, service users and citizens with any concerns about any aspect of the School or Council's work to come forward and voice those concerns. It is recognised that certain cases will have to proceed on a confidential basis.

The Council and Governing Body will not tolerate any occurrence of irregularities, and operates a 'zero tolerance' approach to known instances and attempts. The Council and the Governing Body will take all appropriate measures to protect both its clients, including children and vulnerable people, and public funds and to reduce the risk of an irregularity occurring from either internal or external sources. Whenever an irregularity of any description is detected it will be investigated and appropriate prosecution, disciplinary and recovery action will be taken.

This Whistle-Blowing Policy applies to all employees, (including those designated as casual, temporary, agency, authorised volunteers or work experience), contractors/partners working for the Council/School on or off Council/School premises, members and the public and is intended to encourage and enable you to raise any concerns within the School or Council rather than overlooking a problem or blowing the whistle outside without fear of reprisals or victimisation.

This policy aims to:

- Encourage you to feel confident in raising concerns;
- Provide avenues for you to raise concerns in confidence (and if necessary anonymously) and receive feedback on any action taken;
- Allow you to take the matter further if you are dissatisfied with the School or Council's response, and
- Reassure you that you will be protected from reprisals or victimisation for whistle blowing and appropriate action will be taken should this occur.

There are existing procedures in place to enable employees to lodge a grievance relating to their own employment. This whistle-blowing policy is intended to cover concerns that fall outside the scope of other procedures.

4. What is covered by the Policy

A concern may be about something that:

- Is unlawful; or
- Is against the Council's Constitution or policies, and/or policies adopted by the Governing Body; or
- Falls below established standards or practice; or
- Amounts to improper conduct.

A concern can therefore relate to any unethical or unprofessional conduct relating to the Council/School, including malpractice, and abuse. This not only covers acts that have actually occurred but also those that may potentially occur

Examples of malpractice in this context may include concerns about possible fraud and corruption, financial irregularities, dangerous procedures risking health and safety to the public as well as to other employees, abuse or bullying of clients including children and vulnerable people, evasion of statutory responsibilities, environmental issues, etc. The overriding concern should be that it would be in the public interest for the malpractice to be corrected and, if appropriate, sanctions applied.

5. Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998

This Act commenced on 2 July 1999 and gives statutory protection, within defined parameters, to employees who make disclosures about a range of subjects, which they believe to be happening within the authority employing them.

Under the Act

The Act has rules for making a protected disclosure:

- You must reasonably believe the disclosure is in the public interest.
- You must believe it to be substantially true.
- You must not act maliciously or make false allegations.
- You must not seek any personal gain.

By regulations issued under the Act, the National Audit Office (NAO) has taken on new responsibilities as a "prescribed person" that involves receiving disclosures from employees when those employees are unable or unwilling to make the disclosure internally.

The NAO, along with their appointed representatives, has the responsibility to ensure that disclosures are properly investigated and will report its findings to the person making the disclosure.

6. Safeguards

Harassment or Victimisation

The Governing Body recognises that the decision to report a concern can be a difficult one to make, not least because of the fear of reprisal from those responsible for the alleged malpractice. Both the Council and Governing Body will not tolerate harassment or victimisation and will take action to protect you when you raise a concern.

This does not mean that if you as an employee are already the subject of disciplinary or redundancy procedures, that those procedures will be halted as a result of your whistle-blowing.

Anonymous Allegations and Confidentiality

This policy encourages you to put your name to your allegation. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less capable of being investigated effectively, but they will be considered by the School or Council.

The factors to be taken into account in determining whether to proceed with an anonymous allegation would include:

- The seriousness of the issues raised;
- The credibility of the concern; and
- The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources.

It must be appreciated that the investigation process may reveal the source of the information and a statement by you may be required as part of the evidence.

Untrue Allegations

When making an allegation you must have reasonable belief that your concerns are true, though you do not need any evidence to prove they are correct. You must be able to show that you believed that disclosing your concern was in the public interest and that it was a reasonable view to hold in the circumstances at the time. Note that it is not your responsibility to investigate the matter; that is the Council’s responsibility.

If you do make an allegation that you believe is in the public interest, but it is not confirmed by the investigation, no action will be taken against you.

If, however, an investigation finds that you have made malicious or vexatious allegations, legal or disciplinary action may be taken against you.

7. How to Raise a Concern

This will depend on the seriousness and sensitivity of the issues involved and who is thought to be involved in the malpractice.

Employee concerns should firstly be raised within the School/Council with either

Advice and guidance on how matters of concern may be pursued can be obtained from the same sources.

Whilst Head Teachers should establish as many details as possible (by discussion with the notifying officer only) he/she should formally report the incident to the Chair of Governors and the Director of Children, Family and Adult Services. They should then notify the Internal Audit Manager who will then make the necessary disclosures to the Director of Corporate Resources, the Monitoring Officer and the Chief Executive, dependent on the potential seriousness of the referral

Where a concern/multiple concerns is/are raised that contains an element of potential noncompliance with one or more of the School's employment policies, the Internal Audit Manager will liaise Human Resources to determine who will lead the investigation.

If you have concerns regarding abuse to adults or children you may also contact the Safeguarding Adult and Children teams as follows:

- Adults - 01482 861103 (email - safeguardadults@eastriding.gov.uk)

Concerns are better raised in writing. You are invited to set out the background and history of the concern, giving names, dates and places where possible, and the reason why you are particularly concerned about the situation. If you do not feel able to put your concern in writing, you can telephone the Internal Audit Manager or one of the officers listed above, or leave a recorded message on the 24 hour whistle-blowing hotline answer phone (telephone number 01482 394123), complete the online form on the internet and intranet (there's an apps button on the Insight home page) or email whistleblower@eastriding.gov.uk.

These services are strictly confidential and you will not be asked to give your name if you do not want to.

The earlier you express the concern, the easier it is to take action. This is particularly important where the wellbeing of children may be at risk.

Although you are not expected to prove the truth of an allegation, you will need to demonstrate to the person contacted that there are sufficient grounds for your concern. You do not need evidence just sufficient grounds for concern. Under no circumstances should you investigate a concern yourself as this may risk prejudicing any investigation, which could include a criminal investigation if it is warranted. Further, this will protect you from any repercussions.

You may invite your trade union representative, workplace colleague who is not involved in the area of work to which the concern relates or professional association to assist you in raising a matter.

Details of matters discussed with the contact will be kept confidential.

8. How the Council/School will respond

The action taken by the Council/School will depend on the nature of the concern.

The Chair of Governors, Internal Audit Manager, Headteacher and Director of Children, Families and Schools in conjunction with any other appropriate officer(s) will determine the most appropriate action to be taken. The matter raised may:

- Be investigated internally.
- Be referred to the Police.
- Be referred to the external Auditor.
- Form the subject of an independent inquiry.

In order to protect individuals, the Council and Governing Body, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. Concerns or allegations that fall within the scope of specific procedures (for example, child protection or discrimination issues) will normally be referred for consideration under those procedures.

Some concerns may be resolved by agreed action without the need for investigation. Where contact details have been provided, within ten working days of a concern being received, the Headteacher or Chair of Governors will write to you:

- acknowledging that the concern has been received;
- indicating how it proposes to deal with the matter;
- giving an estimate of how long it will take to provide a final response;
- telling you whether any initial enquiries have been made, and
- telling you whether further investigations will take place, and if not, why not.

NB In the case of child protection issues, the procedures and guidance issued by the East Riding Safeguarding Children Partnership will be followed.

The amount of contact between the employees considering the issues and you will depend on the nature of the matters raised, the potential difficulties involved and the clarity of the information provided. If necessary, further information will be sought from you.

When any meeting is arranged, you have the right, if you so wish, to be accompanied by a trade union representative or a workplace colleague who is not involved in the area of work to which the concern relates.

The Council/Governing Body will take steps to minimise any difficulties, which you may experience as a result of raising a concern. For instance, if you are required to give evidence in criminal or disciplinary proceedings, the Council will advise you about the procedure.

The Council/Governing Body accepts that you need to be assured that the matter has been properly addressed. Thus, subject to legal constraints, you will receive information about the outcomes of any investigations.

9. How the Matter can be Taken Further

This policy is intended to provide you with an avenue to raise concerns within the Council. The Council hopes you will be satisfied. If you are not, and if you feel it is right to take the matter outside the Council, the following are possible contact points:

- An elected member of the Council.
- Relevant professional bodies or regulatory organisations.
- Your solicitor.
- The Police.
- Public Concern at Work.
- Trade union/professional association.
- The Ombudsman.

- The Council's external auditor.

If you do take the matter outside the School or Council, you need to ensure that you do not disclose information that is privileged to the School or Council and if you are an employee, do not breach your obligations under the Council's Code of Conduct for Employees.

The Code of Conduct for Employees is available on the intranet. Whilst all of the code is important, the section concerning contact with the press and media is particularly relevant.

10. Responsibility

The Responsible Officer, who is the Chief Executive, has overall responsibility for the maintenance and operation of this policy.

The Director of Corporate Resources will maintain a record of concerns raised and action taken in a form, which does not endanger your confidentiality and will report as necessary to the Council.

11. Corporate Requirements

This policy supports the following Corporate Priorities;

- Growing the economy
- Valuing the environment

12. Policy Development including Consultation in consultation with Directors, Heads of Service and Trade Unions.

Regular features on this policy will be publicised throughout a variety of channels open to the Council/School, eg intranet, the internet, grapevine, selling to the Council guide, pay advice slips etc.

16. Evaluation

The success of this policy may be assessed by:

- The number of reported incidents of malpractice.
- Monitoring whether individuals feel able to report occurrences without fear or favour.
